CASE STUDIES (BLUE ROOM)

CHAIRPERSON

Chris Delphin

9.00^{AM} – 10.00^{AM}

Value of irrigation assets specifications for councils

SCOTT JOHNSTONE, HYDROPLAN

This case study will look at a range of councils in NSW, QLD & NT that have adopted a master 'Irrigation Assets Specification Manual' and the value they derive from having robust irrigation standards in their toolbox

CASE STUDIES (GREEN ROOM)

CHAIR: Bryan Ward

9.00^{AM} – 9.30^{AM}

Smart urban irrigation project

DAN MOSBAUER, CAIRNS REGIONAL COUNCIL

This project involves conducting ground surveillance of 16 irrigated locations throughout Council. Providing data such as soil moisture, salinity and infiltration rates and allowing us to know where irrigation is needed, the duration of watering required and mitigating against nutrient leaching into the eco-system

CHAIR: Bryan Ward

9.30^{AM} – 10.00^{AM}

Water body management and water quality

BEN WALSH, BIOREMEDI

Presentation of three case studies about water quality of dams and theory of quality irrigation water

10.00^{AM} – 10.30^{PM}

Manipulating hydraulic conductivity in order to improve soil health and structure for turf

SUNDEEP BHATT, CHT AUSTRALIA PTY LTD

Many turf growers and farmers are on the lookout for new ideas to overcome difficulties that have frustrated them for years. This session will discuss the innovations in chemistry that some farmers are using and many are now thinking about to help their business

WORKSHOP: 10.00^{AM} – 12.00^{PM} (2 HOUR WORKSHOP)

Quality irrigation solutions for local government, industry & end users

MODERATED BY PETER BRUECK (Irrigation Australia Certified participants attending will receive one CPD point in addition to the point for the conference attendance)

Sourcing plants? Are YOU at risk?

For over 25 years NIASA has been the mark of a professional production nursery.

Independently and professionally audited, so you don't have to.

Reduce YOUR risk
by sourcing from a NIASA accredited production nursery.

Plant Sourcing Risk Checklist

- Are you confident the plants are produced under high health conditions?
- Are the plants true to type?
- Does the grower use environmentally sustainable business practices?
- Does the grower use and store agrochemicals appropriately?
- Has the grower assessed their water use?
- Does the grower manage their WHS responsibilities?

In South East Queensland, we live in a climate of extremes.

Water efficiency should be what we do every day, not just when conditions are dry.

That's why Seqwater is working with industry and communities to prepare for the possibility of drought and other weather extremes.

By mulching well, improving irrigation systems and soil, everyone can keep gardening - whatever the weather!
